

BLACK SHEPHERD.

SAYS SHE SET A DOG ON HIM.

Mr. Shea's Answer to Mrs. Rogers's Charge of Assault.

She is Prominent in Several Legal Actions in Brooklyn.

John Shea, buyer for a New York dry-goods house, was on trial before Justice Tigue, in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning on the charge of striking Mrs. Catherine Rogers, of 65 Eleventh street, Brooklyn, and threatening to shoot her.

The alleged assault was committed about three weeks ago. Mrs. Rogers went to Judge Walsh, of the Adams Street Police Court, and asked for a warrant for Shea's arrest. The Judge investigated the case and declined to issue a warrant on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence.

Mrs. Rogers then went to District Attorney Ridgway. Mr. Ridgway was inclined to believe that the case was one of truth in Mrs. Rogers's story. He wrote to Justice Tigue requesting that he issue a warrant for Shea's arrest. The request was complied with. Assistant District Attorney Callahan was assigned to the case.

In court this morning Mrs. Rogers said she was visiting 380 West 11th street the day in question, when Shea and his daughter called. She alleges that Shea, who represented himself as a brother-in-law, threatened to shoot her and otherwise abused her.

She said she had an interest in the house, and it belonged to her husband, Bernard Rogers. The house is valued at about $6,500. Mrs. Rogers said her husband had purchased the house in the name of his brother, Henry Rogers, so that she could not claim any part of it.

Shea, in his defense, said as soon as he got in the hallway Mrs. Rogers called out to him. He saw her and went in about a minute the dog appeared, barking at him. He said he did not know the dog and did not know who it belonged to.

He denied having touched Mrs. Rogers, and his daughter corroborated his statement. Mrs. Rogers has been in court many times in the last few years because of her alleged temperamental habits. Rogers was wealthy when he was married, but is now a poor man. He attributes his poverty to his wife's extravagance.

His brother, Henry Rogers, is said to be a millionaire. He is in the novelty goods business. Mrs. Rogers has brought an action to set aside the original divorce suit for $100,000 damages against Henry Rogers for being responsible for her husband leaving her.

Mrs. Rogers brought an action to set aside the original divorce suit for $100,000 damages against Henry Rogers for being responsible for her husband leaving her. She also brought an action to set aside the original divorce suit for $100,000 damages against Henry Rogers for being responsible for her husband leaving her.

Mrs. Rogers also has an action pending in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, for separation from her husband, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment.

CAUGHT THE BURGLAR.

Mrs. Puff Grabbed Him About the Waist and Screamed.

A fashionably dressed young man, highly perfumed, was held by Justice Goetting, in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day, on a charge of burglary. He said his name was William Carroll, and he was a resident of 267 Stockton street, and thoroughly ransacked the flat on the second floor, where Mrs. Emma Puff and her husband live.

He had picked up a quantity of jewelry and jewels, and was preparing to leave when Mrs. Puff grabbed him about the waist and screamed. The woman is strong and muscular, and without a word she grabbed the burglar by the neck and held him until the police arrived. She then released him and he was taken to court.

Policeman Siefert, of the Vernon avenue station, heard the screams of the woman, and rushed into the house, arrested Carroll.

Despite his fashionable appearance, Carroll stated that he lived at the Newsboys' Home on Poplar street. When the officers doubted the statement, he refused to have anything further to say.

ASKED FOR THREE MONTHS.

Siefert Had Been Sentenced Only for Ten Days.

"Ten days in jail," remarked Justice Goetting, in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day, when he had diagnosed the case of Christopher Siefert, of 198 Sanford street, as "plain drunk." "Hold on, Judge," cried the prisoner, "I'm a favor. Give me three months to oblige you."

Three months in the penitentiary. "I don't want to go to jail," said Siefert. "Well," remarked Justice Goetting, "I'll give you a great pleasure to oblige you."

BURNED TO DEATH.

Mrs. Townsend's Clothing Caught Fire from a Furnace.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Dec. 8.—Sarah Jane Townsend was burned to death last night in her home in Brooklyn, this township. Her clothing accidentally caught fire from the kitchen furnace.

Arrested for an Old Theft.

Paul Krenzinger, of 64 Bartlett street, was held in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day on a charge of theft. A year ago Krenzinger was given a $10 bill to change by Peter, of 50 Myrtle avenue. He disappeared with the cash. Peter got a warrant for Krenzinger's arrest, and he returned to Williamsburg until a few days ago, and was arrested last night.

Talk of Investigating Street and Public Works Accounts.

Brooklyn's Comptroller May Resign When Schieren Comes In.

In the corridors of the Brooklyn City Hall this morning politicians were talking over the report that the Mayor-elect was preparing to examine the accounts of the City Works Department. This work will not be commenced until A. T. White, the new Commissioner takes charge.

Few scandals have been created in Brooklyn which cannot be traced in some way to this Department. Mr. Schieren, it is said, has requested Mr. White to engage the services of expert accountants to also go through the Street-Cleaning Department books.

Some Republicans, who are supposed to be very close to Mr. Schieren, say that there is some talk of the new administration applying to Gov. Flower for the appointment of a special Attorney to examine the affairs of the entire city government.

It became known this morning that Comptroller Hailey Corwin thinks of resigning his office Jan. 1 or shortly after the new administration is inaugurated.

Mr. Corwin's reason for such a course is that his health is very poor, and that he finds the work of his new office a severe strain on his nerves. Persons who are in a position to know say that the financial condition of Brooklyn has been a severe strain on Mr. Corwin ever since he took charge of the office.

The chief trouble Mr. Schieren has now is to devise some means by which the city may meet its obligation to the Navy-Yard for the purchase of the Navy-Yard lands. The amount of money to be raised next year for this purpose is $300,000, which must be raised by an issue of tax certificates.

Financiers say that all the money raised on tax for 1894 will have to be used in defraying the expenses of the city government and paying off the bonds which will mature.

The United States Government, it is said, in despatches from Washington, wants the money to use in the Navy Department.

Mr. Corwin's friends say that since he went into the City Hall, his health has been almost continually under the care of a physician, and several times he has been on the verge of nervous prostration.

Mr. Corwin was elected by the people a year ago. Since he took charge of the financial department of Brooklyn he has gained the respect and admiration of the business community. If Mr. Corwin resigns Mr. Schieren will appoint some one to serve out the unexpired term of his office.

Mr. Schieren complete control of the entire city government. The salary of Comptroller is $10,000 a year.

MRS. GOTHAR WANTS $10,000.

Damages for False Arrest Placed at That Figure.

Justice Osborne, in the City Court, Brooklyn, to-day heard testimony in suit brought by Mrs. Emma Gothar against Richard Wieseman, a grocer, of Sutter avenue and Essex street, for $10,000 damages for false arrest and defamation of character.

Mrs. Gothar alleges that on Feb. 2, 1893, she called on Mr. Wieseman, who was a customer of hers, and asked him to give her a warrant for her arrest, alleging that she had stolen his goods. She alleged that she had stolen $100. When the case came to trial Mrs. Gothar was acquitted.

FOUND HER GIRL IN A DEN.

Pretty Jennie Robinson Rescued by Her Mother in Brooklyn.

Policeman Burke Allowed All Her Companions to Escape.

Jennie Robinson, a pretty little sixteen-year-old girl, of 480 Butler street, Brooklyn, was sent to the House of the Good Shepherd this morning by Justice Tigue, in the Butler Street Police Court, on the complaint of her mother, Mrs. Bridget Robinson.

Jennie ran away from home a few weeks ago. Her mother, who became very much distressed over her absence, learned that she was in a house in Gold street, Brooklyn, and got a warrant for Justice Tigue for the girl's arrest.

Court Officer Burke was given the warrant for execution and yesterday morning went with Mrs. Robinson to 214 Gold street very early.

There were only a few blocks from the First Precinct Police Station, and the mother went through a passageway and reached a house in the rear. The second floor was occupied by a woman named Johnson, the wife of an actor. Burke knocked on the door, which was opened by a girl.

He pushed it open and entered with Mrs. Robinson. The room was filled with young girls and young men in the act of dressing. Among the inmates Mrs. Robinson found her daughter.

While Mrs. Robinson was interviewing her daughter the other occupants of the room were sleeping. They were half-dressed and the girls were lying on the floor. The mother arrested no one in the house except her daughter, giving as an excuse that he only had a warrant for her.

FENTON'S BURGLAR CHASE.

A Brooklyn Policeman Bagged One Who Peached on the Others.

Policeman Fenton, of the Bergen street police station, Brooklyn, was led a lively chase by a gang of alleged burglars early this morning, during which he fired several shots from his revolver.

One of the men was captured, and he gave information which led to the arrest of one of his companions.

Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning Fenton saw four men going along Third avenue, carrying several large demijohns. He suspected they were house-breakers and followed them a couple of blocks. He then called upon them to stop.

The men turned around, and when they saw the officer they dropped their demijohns, threw off their coats and overcoats and ran.

Fenton drew his revolver and fired several shots into the air. One of the men, who was named Michael Wheeler, was arrested. The others escaped.

The man said he was Michael Wheeler, three years old of 51 Carroll street. The demijohns contained several gallons of rum, gin, Jamaica ginger and rye whiskey.

The police discovered that burglars had forced an entrance to the cellar of Thos. Meagher's saloon, 283 Third avenue, and carried away the property found in the cellar. The police expect to make other arrests.

SUED JORDAN FOR $10,000.

Casey Says the Ex-Police Commissioner Wrongfully "Broke" Him.

Gen. James Jordan, ex-Police Commissioner of Brooklyn, was the defendant in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning in an action brought by Thomas Casey.

Casey is an ex-policeman. He sues for $10,000 damages for the wrongful discharge of him from the police force. He was discharged for neglect of duty.

Justice Jordan, who is now a private citizen, is said to be a wealthy man. He was a member of the police force for many years.

MISS RYAN DISCHARGED.

Name of the Accusing Politician Not Made Public.

Josephine Ryan, charged with stealing $400 from a prominent Brooklyn politician, was discharged by Justice Walsh in the Adams Street Police Court this morning.

Miss Ryan had been held on a technical charge of vagrancy. Neither the name of the politician nor the amount of the money stolen was made public.

WOMAN SINGS IN COURT.

Ryan's Wife Makes a Scene When He Is Sentenced.

Quite a scene was created in Part II. of the General Sessions to-day, by the wife of a prisoner, who was sentenced to two years in State Prison, by Recorder Smyth.

James Ryan, thirty years old, of 80 Stanton street, was charged with stealing four dresses from Jacob Heisfeld, of 367 First avenue.

While Ryan stood at the bar, the Recorder gave him a severe scolding, and said he would send him to the penitentiary for five years. No sooner had the words left the Recorder's lips, than Ryan's wife, under standing that she was sentenced, arose and screamed, "Give me back my husband, you have stolen him from me!"

She then flung herself on the floor and begged for mercy. The Recorder ordered her to be removed from the court.

Don't Want Him Made Bishop.

(By Associated Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 8.—The Standing Committee of the diocese of Springfield Episcopal Church has refused its assent to the consecration of Rev. A. C. A. Bishop of the diocese of Vermont.

The members of the New York Mercantile Exchange held another public meeting to-day for the discussion of the oligomeric question. The meeting was held at the New York Mercantile Exchange.

The nature of the communication between Haire and Duffy, and the reputation of the latter, was discussed. It was inferred and rumored that the reputation consisted of a cash payment to Haire, whose right to be placed for life.

Fire Over a Liquor Store.

Fire broke out at a clock this morning on the second floor of the three-story dwelling 504 Third avenue, occupied by Roman Arnold as a liquor store and owned by the Kiehl Brewing Company. The damage to the building was $2,000 and the loss to the owner $1,000.

MORE GOLD FOR EUROPE.

Sterling Exchange Rates Bring About This Movement.

Bankers Have Plenty of Surplus Yellow Metal.

The continued rise in sterling exchange has at last led to an export movement of gold to Europe. Heidebach, Ickelheimer & Co. this morning engaged $500,000 for shipment by to-morrow's steamer. The price on the transaction was very slight.

The high quotations for exchange are due in large measure, to the hardening of the discount rates in London and on the Continent and the extreme ease in money here.

The latter is an inducement to those having settlements to make abroad to close up their accounts as quickly as possible, while foreign banks can employ their capital to greater advantage in Europe.

The fact that gold is going out excites less attention than any similar movement for a very long time past, as the banks have a large stock of the yellow metal and money is such a glut that exports can make no material difference to borrowers.

The stock market was extremely dull, and an indisposition to speculate was manifested on all sides. National Linseed Oil rose 1-2 to 27-1/2; Distillers, 5-8 to 25-5/8; General Electric, 8-1/2 to 24-3/4; American Sugar, 1-1/2 to 8-1/4; and Lackawanna, 1-3/4 to 10-1/8. Subsequent Chicago Gas declined 1-4 to 2-1/2; American Sugar, 5-8 to 21-1/2; Distillers, 1-2 to 27-1/2; Louisville & Nashville, 5-8 to 10-1/8.

Stocks were weaker after midday, especially for the Grangers, which were sold on reports of falling in the earnings of the roads.

Subsequently Distillers rose to 25-1/2 on an animated market. The Grangers, however, were comparatively slight and the dealings were confined to the four walls of the Exchange.

The announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had taken $200,000 gold additional for shipment to Europe had no effect. The market was looked for during the coming week.

Foreign exchange was strong with actual business at 144 1/2 to 145 1/2 for bankers' 60-day bill, and 147 1/2 to 148 1/2 for sight.

The Sub-Treasury was debtor at the Clearing-House in the sum of $38,832, and liquidated in gold. The New York & Harlem Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, payable Jan. 2.
